

Authentic Leadership for Men

Date:

Spring 2022

For:

Broader management

Program length:

10 months

Number of participants:

15

A unique leadership program for men in the middle and senior management and startup founders. You will learn how to be a good leader even in difficult situations and what is expected of you at a time when the society and the organizations are fundamentally changing.

In the program, we will focus on the development of authentic elements of your personality, and how to use them in communication and cooperation with others, how to work with complexity and unpredictability, or how to strengthen your own and team's resilience. We have put all this into the current framework of work in an online or hybrid environment.

4x all-day workshop,
2x half-day workshop
group of 15 participants

1x individual mentoring
per each participant
(90 min.)

1x acceleration
meeting in group
of 3 participants
(90 min.)

1x Talent Dynamic Test
per each participant

A program that defies competition by addressing issues of self-reflection and personal development of the leader in a relaxed but very intense way. If you want your management to take a second breath and change the approach to commonly used principles of operation, it is the right choice for your team. The program started a very active approach of my team to self-development, as it opened new horizons for them.
